Beasts And Citizens: Forty Fables Of La Fontaine

Jean de La Fontaine Craig Hill Andrew Stevovich Michael Bixler Winifred Bixler James Stroud Jim DiMarcantonio Palm Press Hope Bindery & Box Company

on in a sack by irate citizens, perform playlets of. He has dared to scorn men and to suggest that beasts are wiser than people. 1955 Fables de La Fontaine: Quarante Fables Choisies. Hee is an oversize volume with forty large illustrations in bright color and distinctive Hill, Craig WorldCat Identities Page:La Fontaine - The Original Fables Of, 1913.djvu/62 In the old, vain, and fickle city of Athens, an orator, seeing how the light-hearted citizens were blind to certain dangers The beast of many heads did not deign to hear the launching of these thunderbolts. This page was last modified on 21 March 2013, at 22:40.