Confronting Evil in International Relations: Ethical Responses To Problems Of Moral Agency

Renee Jeffery

Confronting evil in international relations: ethical responses to problems of moral agency associated with the perpetration of evil acts by individuals and great religions there is a "moral trajectory challenging adherents to... Within each of the great religions there is a "moral trajectory challenging adherents to...