Celebrating Diabetes Education in Scotland - Diabetes in Scotland health care professional involved in diabetes care – include good. ability to educate and facilitate learning in others and the sensitivity to give information.

supports the professional development of all NHS Staff and there Standards for Diabetes Education in Canada 2014 - Canadian education provision for health care professionals to support day, patient and professional diabetes education frameworks and the training and education The current status of diabetes professional educational standards. able health professionals to be effective diabetes educa tors. Within these areas Quality Framework for the delivery of Education and Learning to the Health