
The Battle of the Somme, July-November 1916 - YouTube

Aerial photograph of a British gas attack in progress between Carnoy and Montauban in June 1916 shortly before the Somme offensive.

The Allied and German positions at Beaumont-Hamel remained unchanged from the outset of the Battle of the Somme on 1 July 1916 until the village was occupied by the Somme on 13-18 November 1916, the last British attack during the Somme offensive. Beaucourt was captured by the British on the Western Front on 13-14 November 1916.

