Paris 1918: The War Diary Of The British Ambassador, The 17th Earl Of Derby

Edward George Villiers Stanley Derby David Dutton

Earl of Derby By Paris 1918: The War Diary of the British Ambassador, the 17th Earl. - Google Books Result

Lord Derby 1865-1948, formerly Edward George Villiers Stanley, served as British. Conservative family Edward Stanley became the 17th Earl of Derby in 1908. In early 1918 Derby's continuing opposition to the creation of an inter-Allied Derby was instead despatched to Paris as British ambassador to France, where Paris 1918: The War Diary of the British Ambassador, the 17th Earl. Author, Derby, Edward George Villiers Stanley, Earl of, 1865-1948. Title, Paris 1918 the war diary of the British ambassador, the 17th Earl of Derby / edited by