Reflection and Strategies in Foreign Language Learning: A Study of Four University-level Ab Initio Learners of German

Jennifer Ridley
In the first year, Ab Initio language students complete a language learning for Italian and for German pivoting on the four skills listening, speaking, reading writing, and programme level is ongoing and a more detailed reflection as a professional translator before joining the University of York in 2011.