Why can't we use the best insights of psychology along with the Bible? As Christians, we are to depend solely on God and His Word as our support and wisdom. Can you find a single verse that says that you need to build your self-esteem?